

Opti-GROW foal cubes

PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

Especially during the first months of their life, foals go through a large growth and therefore need high-quality food to support an optimal development. After weaning, the missing mother milk must be replaced by a proper nutrition.

Opti-GROW Foal Pellet is designed to support an optimal growth of a foal in the first 18 months of its life:

- Enriched with high-quality protein and milk powder
- The multi-calcium complex and the additional amino acids support a balanced development of the foal's skeleton and muscle mass
- The high palatability and the reduced diameter ensure an easy intake at a young age
